

Kyle Francis

Vice President of Development

Kyle Francis is the Vice President of Development at Dallas Afterschool, bringing over a decade of nonprofit fundraising experience to the role.

Under his leadership, Dallas Afterschool has reached significant fundraising milestones, including securing its first million-dollar foundation gift and nearly two million dollars in government contracts. Kyle is dedicated to ensuring that all children receive the resources and support they need to succeed both academically and in life.

Kyle holds a PhD from the Graduate Center of the City University of New York, a Master's Degree from the University of Houston, and a Bachelor's Degree from the University of Dallas. He is a Leadership ISD alum and the father of three children who attend Dallas ISD.
