

Marjorie Murat

Chief Executive Officer

Marjorie Murat is the Chief Executive Officer at Dallas Afterschool. She has over 25 years of experience working with nonprofit organizations providing impactful direct services, leadership, and being a people-centric change-maker who produces results. She is driven by the belief that education, including OST, is crucial to solving inequities, and is passionate about educating people of all ages that their circumstances do not define them.

Marjorie holds a BA in Sociology from State University of New York College at Cortland, a MA in Counseling from Amberton University, and a Non-Profit Leadership Certificate from SMU. Marjorie is a Leadership ISD alumni, a Bridging Fellow with the Independent Sector, and is a Licensed Child Care Director through the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services.